

Our Company

COMsolve specializes in professional services for wireless carriers, service providers and vendors. Our wealth of experience in wireless technologies, regulatory affairs and radio frequency spectrum management, enables us to bridge between technical knowledge and business implementation. As one of the leading experts in the Canadian wireless arena, COMsolve guarantees the successful implementation of wireless projects through worry-free partnerships. We provide expert engineers and IT professionals that take the responsibility for variable-size projects and deliver turn-key solutions.

Our People

A diverse team of engineering and business solutions experts with in-depth knowledge of design and integration of wireless projects, as well as the Canadian wireless regulations. With an extensive background in design, integration and operation, we provide outstanding solutions that will meet your technical specifications as well as business objectives.

A talented pool of experts that can be tapped to provide immediate resources for urgent and/or niche projects. This exclusive combination of internal and external expertise, provides tremendous benefits for design and integration on short notice.

Furthermore, when the need arises for the integration of a new hardware or software application on your network, or the assurance that your newly developed product meets the Canadian wireless standards, we take all phases of the project for a turnkey solution that ensures worry-free and successful implementation.

Our Customers

COMsolve focuses its expertise and provides professional services to the following target markets:

- Wireless Carriers
- Wireless Service Providers
- Wireless Equipment Vendors
- Mobile Application Vendors

Carriers face the challenge of specific and urgent projects, which require in-depth knowledge, as well as additional engineers and IT professionals for timely design and implementation.

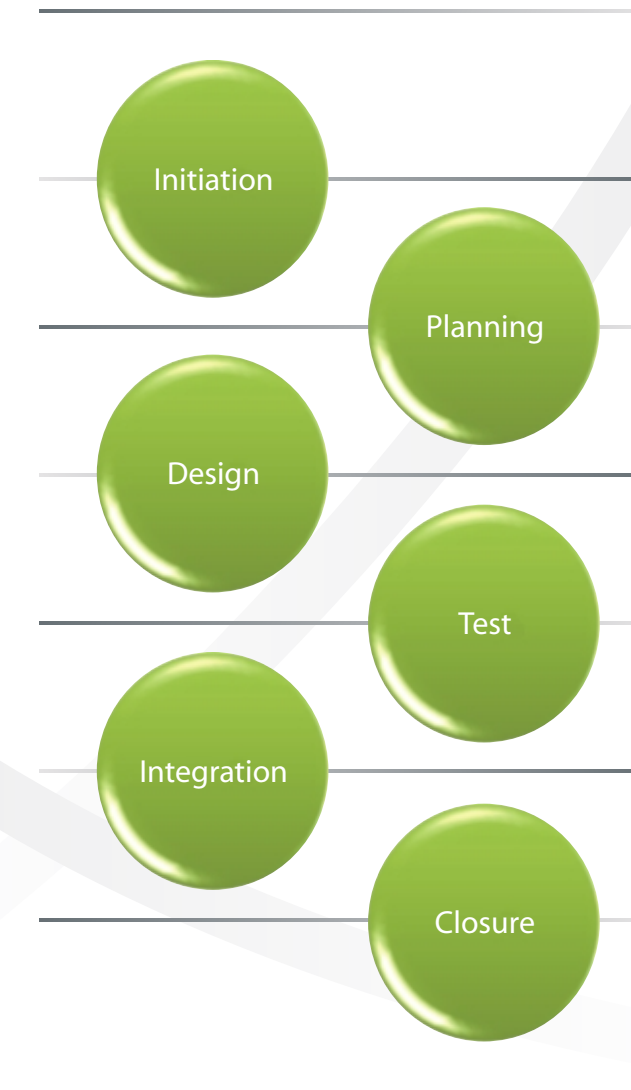

Vendors struggle with the constant demand for more powerful hardware and software, while facing falling prices and eroding margins.

Multinational vendors, planning to launch and operate in Canada, require an experienced partner to provide planning and regulations advice, as well as integration services across Canada.

Our Competitive Advantages

At COMsolve, we care deeply about our customers' operations. Our successful implementation of demanding projects such as WNP (Wireless Number Portability), Wireless Enhanced 911 deployment, spectrum acquisition, equipment vendor selection and numerous other projects - brings you leading-edge expertise for your specific wireless needs.

With extensive experience in Canadian telecommunications regulatory affairs, Radio Frequency Spectrum Management and knowledge of the inner-workings of the CRTC's sub-committees, we work with carriers and vendors to ensure that solutions and products meet the necessary Canadian standards, for a successful and worry-free launch.

Project's Life-Cycle Capabilities

COMsolve's team of wireless telecom experts has been providing turnkey services to carriers and vendors throughout all phases of the telecom project. We excel in providing experts who take responsibility and lead your highly demanding projects to ensure a worry-free and successful outcome. Our experience with some of Canada's leading organizations enables us to deliver turnkey solutions on time and on budget.

Our Core Values

We Care

At COMsolve we care deeply about our customers' operations. We go above and beyond the line of duty to deliver our commitment, while constantly looking for ways and solutions that would improve operational efficiencies and reduce costs.

Leading-Edge Expertise

We bring you leading-edge expertise for your specific wireless needs. We ensure that our engineers and IT professionals possess the most appropriate academic credentials and work experience, fitting the specific project's requirements.

Trustworthy

Our goal is to maintain trusting partnerships that last. Through dedication and customer satisfaction, we have gained the trust of all the organizations that we have served in the past. This objective guides us on a daily basis and is a key-driver in gaining repeat business from existing customers as well as leveraging our relationships as referrals for new customers. Our customers have learned to trust us with the most challenging projects, based on their experience that COMsolve "delivers what it promises".

Partnerships

Through teamwork and unique industry partnerships, we bring the best engineering and IT professional talent to any demanding wireless project, to ensure on-time and on-budget delivery
